IS SLOWLY DYING

MERCURY POISON IS TAKING ENTIRE CONTROL OF BANKER'S SYSTEM.

Doctors All Over the Country Are Suggesting Methods of Treatment By Wire.

Macon, Ga., May 20.—The case of B. Sanders Walker, the young banker, who last Wednesday swallowed a seven grain bichloride of mercury tablet, mistaking it for a headache tablet, is puzzling his physicians. Mr. Walker early today was reported to be holding his own. He suffers no pain and is conscious. Water is being given the patient intra-venously. A pint of olive oil is given him every twelve hours and the patient is kept in a steaming blanket to eliminate uric acid. The organs are responding slowly to treatment.

Transplant a Kidney.
 Baltimore, May 20.—To transplant the healthy kidney from a man who has just died to the body of B. Sanders Walker, banker, of Macon, Ga., probably the only remedy that will save his life, if the mercury tablet he swallowed has destroyed one of his kidneys, was the statement today of a prominent physician, who is a member of the Johns Hopkins Hospital staff.

He pointed out that Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institute of Research, has successfully transplanted kidneys from one dog to another and in a few hours the dogs were walking about and eating as if their organs had not been disturbed.

According to Dr. Carrel, the same could be done to the human system, and he is the authority for the statement that the blood vessels and other organs can be successfully transplanted and will continue to grow in the human body.

Another local physician predicted Walker's recovery, although he might be paralyzed for life. This doctor said he had had several cases just like the Macon case and in only one of them did the patient die.

Other local medical authorities here interested in the case expressed their belief that Mr. Walker could not possibly recover.

No Hope Say Physicians.
 Macon, Ga., May 20.—The attending physicians, when they read the Associated Press dispatches from Baltimore to the effect that transplanting of the kidneys might save the life of B. Sanders Walker, the banker, slowly dying from poisoning, stated that such a course in the patient's condition would be impossible.

"There is not the slightest doubt that Mr. Walker will die," said Dr. M. M. Stapp, one of the physicians in charge of the case. "The poison has gone all through his system and is not confined to the kidneys. Even if it were only in his kidneys he would die under an opiate. His pulse is 125, nearly double normal, while respiration and temperature are 92 and 98.5 respectively, about normal. This is very unsatisfactory."

Mr. Walker has been confined to his bed the last twenty-four hours and has been half the time in a state of coma. Physicians state that he will either die while in a state of coma or under convulsions and that the end may come at any time now.

Telegrams have poured into the home the past few hours from doctors all over the United States suggesting treatment, but medical men in charge have not deviated from their original campaign of treatment, one of which has been approved by the hospital staffs of large eastern institutions in hourly communication by wire.

WACO HELPS OUT AUSTIN
 Young Men's Business Club is Organized With Over a Hundred.

Austin, May 20.—Encouraged and enthused by the advice and instruction given by Frank J. Trau, president of the Young Men's Business League of Waco, and I. Friedlander, former president, there was organized in Austin tonight a similar live wire association. The two Waco young men were prepared to outline the plans and purposes of such an organization and over 100 Austin young men were gathered to listen to them. The organization was formed amid a great deal of enthusiasm.

The following telegram was received from the Waco delegation, indicating their belief in success:

Austin, May 20.—To the Morning News:—Austin Young Men's Business Club organized tonight with over 100 live enthusiastic members. Austin takes on new life.

Dangerous Tendencies.
 Atchison, Kan., May 20.—There are "dangerous tendencies" in much of the literature disseminated in Sunday schools, according to a report presented to the general synod of the Lutheran church here today. The report was aimed at literature prepared by syndicates of several church denominations. Resolutions against such tendencies were adopted.

DILATORY TACTICS TO DELAY TARIFF

THE REPUBLICANS WILL OFFER AMENDMENTS TO NEARLY EVERY ITEM.

THREATS OF MANUFACTURERS

To Lower Wages Are Referred to. Senator Townsend Asks for Specific Instances.

Washington, May 20.—That republican senators plan to insist upon amendments to nearly every item in the Underwood tariff bill when it comes before the senate for general discussion became evident today when Senator Penrose, former chairman of the finance committee, declared that every member of the minority would have amendments to propose.

Senator Penrose told the senate he knew of no concerted effort to be made purposely to delay the passage of the bill, but said he was assured that the minority would offer many amendments to the schedules offered by the democrats.

Senator Smoot also announced that the introduction of amendments would begin as soon as the bill came from the committee and that many roll calls would be demanded. If this plan is pursued systematically, the journey of the bill through the senate is certain to be prolonged.

Senator Simmons has called for tomorrow the first meeting of the full membership of the finance committee to consider questions relating to the tariff. One matter to be determined will be the list of questions on the tariff to be sent to manufacturers throughout the country. Senators Simmons, Stone and Williams will submit a list for the committee's approval.

During debate today on the matter of making public the briefs filed by manufacturers with the finance subcommittee, Senator Townsend of Michigan engaged in a colloquy with Senator Simmons relative to the alleged threats of manufacturers to reduce wages and the counter intention of the administration through the bureau of corporations to investigate conclusions which might reduce wages following tariff reductions.

Threats of Lower Wages.
 "Is the senator aware," asked Senator Townsend, "of any condition existing which will make possible this proposed coercion on the part of the government, as indicated by the secretary of commerce?"

"Remarks of the secretary relating to investigations of manufacturers," replied Senator Simmons, "have grown out of threats constantly made by the protected interests, that they would reduce wages unless they are permitted to retain the excessive tariff rates."

"Can the senator give any specific cases where such threats have been made?" Senator Townsend continued. "I can refer the senator to the hearings before the ways and means committee, where statements were repeatedly made by manufacturers that if duties were reduced they would be forced to and would cut wages. I also would refer him to the briefs filed with the finance committee, which are full of such statements."

Warnings Are Constant.
 "The senator may construe it as he sees fit," Senator Simmons concluded. "Call it a threat or a statement, but the secretary of commerce had reference to these constant warnings by representatives of the protected interests."

terests, that they would not suffer in their own pockets from tariff reductions, but would shoulder the loss upon their employees."

Prolonged discussion centered upon an effort begun by Senator Penrose to have the names of manufacturers who appear before the senate finance subcommittee submitted for the benefit of the minority. He accepted an amendment by Senator Smith of Georgia for submission of names of manufacturers who call upon minority members of the committee and another by Senator Reed for making public a record of manufacturers who appeared to the finance committee when the Dingley and Payne-Aldrich bills were under consideration.

The Penrose motion, with amendments, was about to pass when Senator Lippitt proposed another, which would require immediate publication of all briefs filed with the finance committee. Thereupon Senator Simmons moved that the whole matter be referred to the finance committee and the motion was carried 42 to 29.

Senator Newlands addressed the senate at length on his tariff program, proposed at the opening of the extra session, which would provide for a gradual reduction of the tariff, and for an investigation into the wisdom of creating a tariff advisory committee. "I hope that this opportunity—the first the democratic party has had in many years—of basing action upon intelligent information instead of mere juggling adjustments between industries and sections, will not be lost," he said.

To Let in Competition.
 Representatives of cotton knit goods manufacturers appeared before Senator Johnston's subcommittee today, protesting against the rate of 20 per cent ad valorem proposed on their wares in the Underwood bill. They maintain that this rate was not protective and that it would let in goods of foreign manufacture.

"That's what we are looking for," said Senator Hughes. "The government will get some revenue and the people will get lower prices."

Senator Stone's subcommittee was engaged in consideration of the metal schedule. Though Senator Stone denied reports that the committee had made general reductions from the Underwood rates, some items have been reduced. One of these is said to be structural steel, on which the bill as it passed through the house placed 12 per cent.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa has introduced an amendment to put aluminum on the free list. This is in keeping with his proposal to put all products of this kind on the free list.

"When the democrats get through with this bill," said Senator Reed, "it may contain some mistakes, but it will contain no jokers by paid employees of the woolen trust or other manufacturing interests."

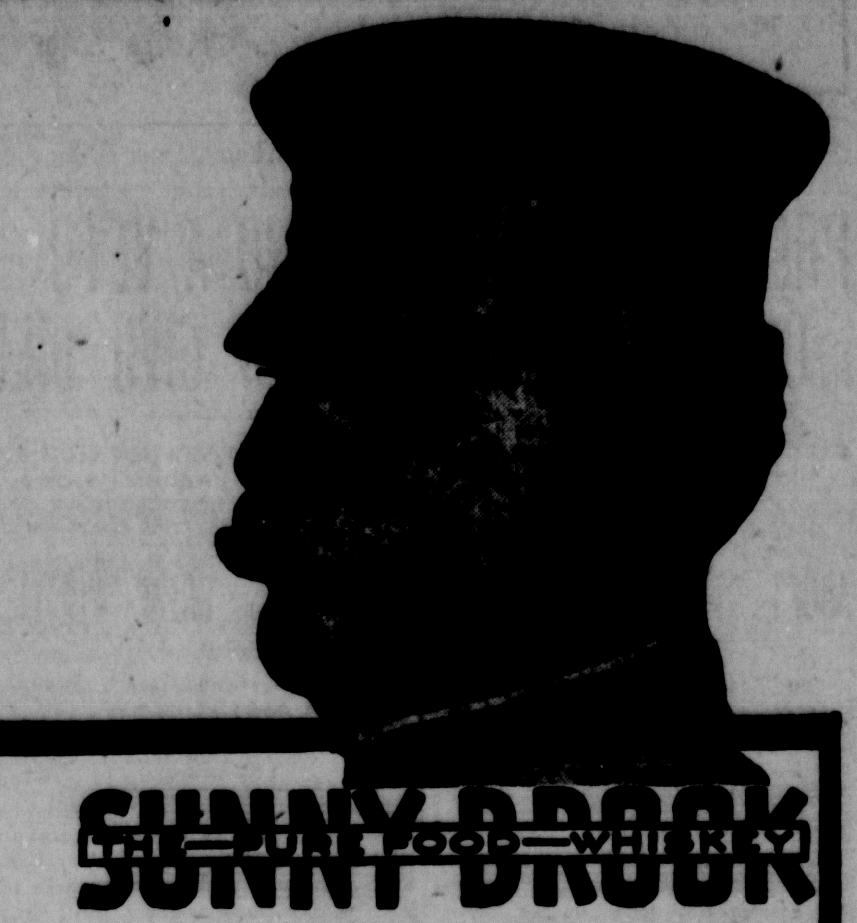

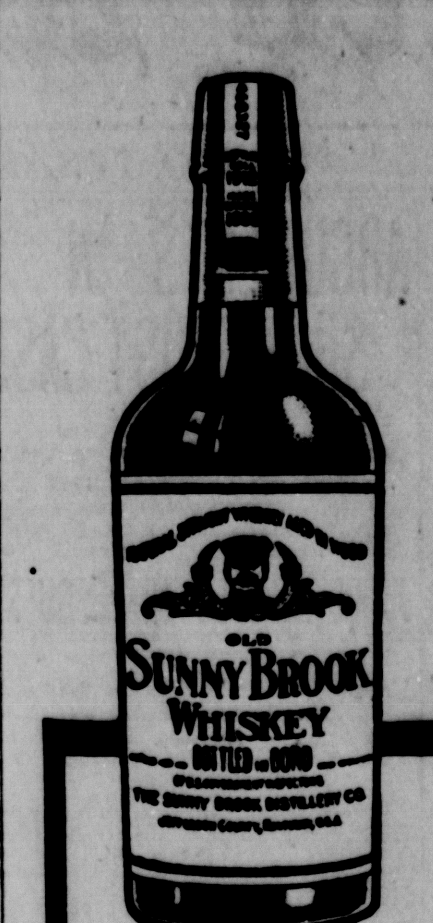

Scatter Flowers To Street Below From Skyscraper

Cincinnati, May 20.—From the uppermost floors of a lofty sky scraper where on last Saturday strike sympathizers bombarded a street car manned by imported men by tossing bags of cement and barrels of plaster upon the heads of thousands of those who had gathered to see the display.

It is claimed that the very men who a few days ago were the hurriers of the agents of destruction today worked for fifteen minutes scattering flowers from the dizzy heights.

No Action on University.
 Bowling, Green, Ky., May 20.—No definite action was taken on this, the last scheduled day of the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, on the compromise in the purchase of Cumberland university at Lebanon, Tenn., but the assembly will remain in session for another day at least. The proposal, which involves the raising of $37,500, likely will come up tomorrow.

V. L. Bray of Springfield, Mo., was chosen as titling secretary of the church.

The great tonic and stimulating properties of Sunny Brook have had much to do toward making us the largest distillers of fine old whiskey in the world. For nearly 50 years Sunny Brook has proved of real value to those who now and then require an energy-builder. When energy is lacking efficiency is lacking. Rare, old and mellow whiskey like Sunny Brook, acts as a great upbuilder; makes life worth living.

Sunny Brook is Bottled in Bond—every bottle is sealed with the Government Stamp, showing that the contents are genuine, straight natural whiskey, U. S. Standard (100%) proof. This stamp however, only assures purity, but not quality. Any whiskey Bottled in Bond is genuine straight whiskey, but not all straight whiskeys are good whiskeys. When you select Sunny Brook—The Pure Food Whiskey—then you know that in addition to the assurance of Absolute Purity by the greatest government on the globe you have a guarantee of Unexcelled Quality by the largest distillers of fine whiskey in the world.

INTOXICATING LIQUOR

COMES UNDER THE STATE LAWS SINCE FEDERAL STATUTE IS EFFECTIVE.

No Longer an Interstate Protection. Cannot Ship into Dry Territory Collect.

Austin, Tex., May 20.—The attorney general's department made a ruling of more than ordinary interest in regard to the transportation of intoxicating liquors from wet into dry territory.

The question asked was, first, will it be legal for a railroad company to accept for transportation and to transport and deliver in local option districts whiskey or other intoxicating liquors to "shippers order notify," the liquor to be delivered to a railroad in a wet district for shipment to a local option district?

The question was answered as follows: That where intoxicating liquors are shipped from wet territory to dry territory to be delivered upon payment of the purchase money therefor, whether shipped by express or by freight, or whether shipped C. O. D., or "shippers order notify," if the subject of the transaction is to transport intoxicating liquor into dry territory with the purchase money charged against the same, regardless of the system by which it is done, and where the purchase money is paid to some person or agent who collects for the consignor, that such transaction would render the person, firm or corporation doing such transporting business liable to an annual occupation tax of $5000 for each office so kept and maintained. The effect of such a transaction is for the consignor to place the liquor subject to his order, which is to offer it for sale, and whenever any person receives and pays the purchase price in local option territory it would be a sale in such territory and the consignor and all agents who assist in consummating that transaction would be guilty of violating the local option law. The only difference between this and the straight out sale of liquor in local option territory is the number of people it involves or may involve, all of whom would be equally guilty.

Also, in regard to the effect of the Webb bill, recently enacted by congress, it was held that it removed the interstate commerce embargo from such intoxicating liquors as were permitted by the Webb bill and permits all state laws to become immediately operative against all such interstate shipments as well as in regard to state shipments; that is to say, all laws now in effect in this state relating to intrastate shipments of liquors or relating to intoxicating liquors in any manner, and all laws which may hereafter be passed by the state which would affect intrastate shipments, will in like manner operate upon interstate shipments. The Atchison bill, however, recently enacted, does not deal with interstate shipments.

Commends Mr. Bryan.
 Bowling Green, Ky., May 20.—The Cumberland Presbyterian church at its general assembly here today commended Secretary of State Bryan for declining to serve wine at his table. This attitude of the assembly was expressed in resolutions which were adopted with fervor.

The report of the committee on missions which was approved recommended that a Cumberland Presbyterian church be built in Louisville, in which city the church is not so represented.

Dr. Elliot Is President.
 Boston, May 20.—The Rev. Samuel A. Elliot was re-elected president of the American Unitarian association today. Reports showed that the church was in a prosperous condition, both as to membership and finances.

Plans for the renovation will be finally approved at the meeting to be held next week at the quarters of the Young Men's Business League.

Mrs. Burbank is a near relative of the celebrated California plant wizard. Before her return to New England the women of Waco will have opportunity to meet Mrs. Burbank personally.

TWO DINNER PARTIES ON MONDAY EVENING
The Hacco club was unusually gay for the opening week. Two dinner parties, both with bachelor hosts, was the order. In addition, several by invitation of Hazel Smith, who had engaged the orchestra, joined the company. Thus, an informal dancing party whirled the later hours of the evening.

Rayless Kurl was host in courtesy to the two guests of Mrs. William Mistrot, the Misses Elizabeth Fields of Bruceville and Frances Cox of Tennessee. Mr. and Mrs. Mistrot chaperoned, the other guest being Miss Clara Primm with Joe Willis and Lawrence Westbrook.

MONUMENT TO MISS WALLACE HAS BEEN PURCHASED
The committee from Sanger Avenue Mothers' club, with Mrs. R. E. Lasenby, acting chairman, is now ready to arrange the order of exercises for placing the monument to the late Miss Bonnie Wallace. This has been a tribute of love from child and admiration from mother. The fund is ready by personal donation and the efforts of the Sanger Mothers' club. The monument, a gray granite shaft six feet in height and properly inscribed, will be placed over the grave of Miss Wallace at Oakwood with impressive ceremony. The address will be made by Judge Prondersant, who was president of the board who gave the valuable and much appreciated service of Miss Wallace to the Sanger school. In case this be done, it will, too, be a tribute of friendship, for it will bring Judge Prondersant from his busy life in Austin for this special purpose. The children will have half holiday and attend the unveiling in a body. They will each take a bunch of flowers to lay on the grave of their beloved teacher, and they will sing the songs in which her voice led them. Parents will also attend. The family will be present, doubtless with overflowing hearts for this evidence of loving memory to their dead. The exact date for the unveiling is not decided until the committee meets today to arrange final details. The monument, however, will be at Oakwood on Saturday to await the formal unveiling.

Of course this is from the love of mother and child for a woman noble in her every word and act. It is an object lesson which should reach beyond the personal feeling involved, and demonstrate to the world who never came under the influence of Miss Wallace a strong personality what it means to lead the life of service for others and the training of youth to nobler ideals.
A HINT TO GRADUATES CONCERNING THEIR CARDS
Now that the season of sending invitations to graduating exercises as well as to the various recitals and the special courtesies among class members, it is not well to take a lesson in the form of addressing these, which shall prevail in after social life? It is the rule of the etiquette that invitation for a formal occasion take two envelopes. The outer is for the guidance of the postman, therefore should have the full name and street address of the one to whom sent. The inner is for the home card basket and should contain nothing but the name of the one to whom sent. It is permissible to place the name of the mother and daughters on the same envelope, but only the former on the outer. The old-fashioned "Mr. Blank and family" is never heard in good society these days. The young men in the home should have special card. It is more respectful that the mother and the daughters, too, should be separate. This form of addressing the card prevails in all phases of social life as well as in the school commencement. It is considered more polite to seal and place the two-cent stamp; however, this is not preceptory when a large number of invitations are mailed.
Society Notes.
Mrs. George Robinson of Washington street is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Kusome of Tunica. The early days of June will find the arrival of a brother from Baltimore and another sister from Plainville, making a family reunion for a few days.
Is it not a reflection upon the earnestness of the church worker when four attend a society until tea is poured, and then twenty-four of social life as well as in the school commencement. It is considered more polite to seal and place the two-cent stamp; however, this is not preceptory when a large number of invitations are mailed.
Mrs. Laura Topham, who has had a leave of absence from the public school here for the past year, has now returned permanently. She has been in Honolulu, and decided to remain there indefinitely.
Mr. and Mrs. F. Arthur Johnson will be in Waco within the next few days. They came from Fort Worth, spend a day or two, and then take passage for the east. Mrs. Johnson spends the summer in her birthplace home while Mr. Johnson takes another summer course in piano from one of the German universities. In the fall they return to reside in Waco.
Miss Mary Anderson, who has done music study in Germany for a year, is leaving time for her home sailing. She has been in London, and her department of Baylor university and will arrive in Waco before the opening of the university next September.
Miss Beatrice Beaumont will take her degree from Baylor university this year. Friends have received invitations to the commencement exercises with the card of Miss Beaumont enclosed.
Mrs. John Freeman leaves within the next few days for Saint Louis. She returns home in a short while accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Patterson, who will continue through the summer.

While the boudoir cap was not intended for outdoor it certainly does look jaunty on the veranda during the afternoon. The real origin of the boudoir cap was for the woman and the curling kid. But we have abused the boudoir cap to the limit.

Knees Became Stiff

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism
The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton Street, Boston, Mass., is another victory by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years, it kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as steel. I tried many medicines without relief, then took Hood's Sarsaparilla, soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's." Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsaparilla.

City Engineer George Ryars was called in and practically agreed to Mr. Dean's suggestions. This was that a 1x4 inch plate guard rail be used on the tangent at the square, and a regular standard guard rail, rolled on a curve for the curve. Also a 6x8 tie, 8 feet long. Specifications also call for wood blocks and paving. This was practically agreed to be cancelled and six inches of concrete placed on the ends of the ties. An eighty-pound rail was also agreed upon.
All of the chances asked by Mr. Dean were practically agreed upon, although no official action was taken, the matter being referred to the commissioner of streets, the city attorney and engineer.
The question of overhead construction was briefly discussed, but no definite understanding reached. Mr. Dean expressed the opinion that center poles between the double tracks would not be practical as it would be necessary to place them too close together.
This matter will be regulated in a separate ordinance.

HELP HOTEL KEEPERS

BUSINESS LEAGUE WILL SEND OWN COMMITTEE TO RUSTLE MONEY FOR CONVENTION.

Appropriate $50 for Baltimore Trip Publicity—Membership Growing. Change in Directorate.

In brief, rapid-fire session last evening, the directorate of the Young Men's Business League authorized the convention committee to join forces with the hotel men's committee this and next week to help raise funds for the Hotel Keepers' Convention to be held here May 28 and 29; passed a resolution to appropriate $50 out of the general funds to be spent in publicity on the Baltimore trip June 4, National Ad Clubs Convention, and elected J. M. Clement director in the place of Frank Battle, resigned.

The proposal to help the hotel men raise funds for their convention that will be held in Waco May 28 and 29 was made by the directorate by A. D. Adams of the Adams Hotel. He pointed out the need of money, and the importance to Waco of the convention. Result was that the directors without opposition voted to send out the convention committee to aid in collecting funds.

A resolution was passed that $50 be appropriated out of the general funds to be used for publicity on the Baltimore trip, when the Waco contingent invades the camp of the National Ad Clubs Convention meeting there June 4. The directors believe in the old saying: "Toot your own horn, or it will remain untuned." And the $50 will "toot" a good deal for the Central Texas metropolis.

On account of having purchased a grocery store in Gatesville, and where he will now take up his residence, Frank Battle presented by proxy his resignation. It was received with regret. The secretary was instructed to write the resigning director a letter expressing the board's sentiment, and wishing him prosperity in the new field. J. M. Clement was elected to the vacancy made on the board.

Report from the secretary showed that from May 13 to May 20 the league had collected $150, and received thirteen new members.
Upon motion of the chair post cards announcing the date of the DeLeon excursion, to be held May 29, will be sent to all members. It is desired that none be left behind on account of ignorance of forgetfulness of the date. Adjournment followed.

Specifications for Track on Square May Be Changed

Following the appearance before the city commission yesterday morning of Luther Dean, engineer for the Southern Traction company, some changes in the specified material to be used by that company in the construction of its tracks around City Hall Square are practically agreed upon.

Mr. Dean stated that the manner of construction specified for the square was extraordinary construction, and his company could not secure some of the material called for by the specifications. He named the 1x4 inch rail, prescribed as being extraordinary, and unable to be purchased. He also said it would be better to use a heavier tie than was specified. Specifications called for a 5x8 tie, eight feet in length, he suggested a 6x8 tie. He said it was impossible to get a seasoned tie of the kind specified until it was cut and allowed to season, which would require some time. The ordinance names June 15 as the date to begin work.

H. M. FLAGLER DEAD

THE MILLIONAIRE OIL AND RAIL CHIEF HAS FELL FROM STEPS.

Injury at His Advanced Age Could Not Be Overcome—His "Over Sea" Railroad.

West Palm Beach, Fla., May 20.—Henry M. Flagler, 55 years old, the noted capitalist and railroad magnate, died at his winter home here this morning after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Flagler sustained a fall from the steps of his home, and because of his advanced age his recovery had not been anticipated.

Henry M. Flagler was born in Canandaigua, N. Y., in 1839. Little is known of his early life except that he was a clerk in a country grocery store in Orleans county, Michigan, when he was in his teens. Later he removed to Saginaw, Michigan, where he was engaged in the manufacture of salt.

Becoming interested in the possibilities of the petroleum industry, he removed to Cleveland, Ohio, where he organized the company of Rockefeller, Andrews & Flagler, engaging in the refining of oil. The Standard Oil company was the outgrowth of this venture and Mr. Flagler has remained actively connected with the management of the great corporation since its inception.

In 1885 Mr. Flagler made his first visit to Florida and became impressed with the business possibilities presented there by the railroad field in connection with the development of winter resorts. Entering actively into the work of turning Florida into one vast winter resort, Mr. Flagler built the Florida, East Coast railroad and later erected the Ponce de Leon and Alcazar hotels at a cost of $3,000,000.

His greatest achievement, however, was the extension of his railroad from Miami to Key West. For many years his plan was ridiculed as impracticable and was called "Flagler's folly." The opening of this "over-sea railroad" was listed as one of the engineering triumphs of the age.

Mr. Flagler formerly was vice president of the Standard Oil company, was president and chairman of the board of directors of the Florida East coast railway and the Jacksonville Terminal company; director of the Western Union Telegraph company, the Morton Trust company and other corporations.

For the past few weeks Mr. Flagler has been feeling practically as well as his death was momentarily expected. Several of his relatives and business associates had been summoned to the financier's bedside.

The body of Henry M. Flagler will lie in state at the cottage where he died until Wednesday afternoon, when, after a brief service, it will be conveyed by train to St. Augustine, where final funeral ceremonies will take place on Friday.

Mr. Flagler's body will be laid to rest in the mausoleum erected by him at the Flagler memorial church in St. Augustine.

Local News Notes

Superintendent S. J. Quay of the water commission, was called before the commission yesterday and asked concerning progress of laying water mains on Columbus street. He reported that he had just started men to work when the rain stopped him. The mayor asked that this work be rushed, as Columbus had been delayed as long as it should be. Mr. Quay promised to do so.

Street Commissioner Foster was granted permission yesterday to extend the sewer at North Ninth street, which intersects at Barron's branch, and was allowed to expend $115 on this work. The first estimate of $174.25 to Boston & Burk, for work on this sewer, was allowed.

The bonds of City Secretary John Davis and Chief of Police Hollis Barron were approved yesterday on recommendation of Finance Commissioner Canfield.

Alma Hicks, negro, was taken to Dallas yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Lee Jenkins, where she is wanted for alleged "jumping" her bond in a theft case. The woman was arrested several days ago by officers here.

Deputy Constable John Dixon and family leave today for Cushing, Okla., where there will be a family reunion. Mr. Dixon's brother from California, and a sister from Kansas, will be there. The family gathering will celebrate the birthday of Mr. Dixon's mother, which is on May 23.

At the city commission yesterday morning Wells-Fargo & Co.'s express was granted permission to construct a platform at the new station of the company, Ninth and Franklin streets. The company has leased quarters in the new Primus building, opposite the State House, and the platform is to facilitate the handling of freight into and out of their wagons.

Application of property owners on Herring from Nineteenth to Twenty-third street for paving, which was presented some time ago to the city commission was again brought up yesterday. The petition had been left with the former city attorney, Lud Williams. Mr. Williams sent in the petition yesterday. Two blocks of the proposed paving on one side of the street is outside the city limits. This is the south side of the street from Twenty-first to Twenty-third streets. The matter was referred to the city attorney for drafting the necessary papers to protect the city in the assurance that these property owners outside the city limits would pay their pro rata share of the cost of the work.

Rear Admiral Twining, Whose Plans Were Stolen

The theft of the wiring plans of the dreadnought Pennsylvania from the ordnance bureau of the navy department, which has set official Washington by the ears, were drawn under the supervision of Rear Admiral Nathan C. Twining, chief of the bureau. Should congress or either house hold an inquiry he will become one of the chief witnesses. The first set of plans was missed March 5, having been taken the night of the inauguration of President Wilson. The remainder disappeared later.

Naval officials have not said if their suspicions centered on any one, and detectives have been unable to get a clue to the thief. The first statement of the department that the theft was of no consequence has been somewhat discounted. It has been learned since that the plans showed the entire wiring of the big vessel and that an opposing battleship commander having them in his possession would not find it difficult to disable her.

MAGIC FIGURE SIX.

Modern Scientists Discover Why Ancients So Divided Time.

Why are there sixty seconds in a minute?
Why are there sixty minutes in an hour?

It has taken science something like seven or eight thousand years to figure that out. And they've just found the answer.

Six is the world's magic number, and sixty is the number that more other numbers and tens go into evenly than any other up to 100.

For centuries the mathematicians of the world have been puzzling their brains to find out why time was divided as it is. It was accepted by them because it was a simple and convenient way to divide time, and they haven't been able to find any way to substitute for it that would do the work. But they didn't know why.

In other words, the ancient Babylonians, the men who invented most of the regular forms that are used in astronomical studies today and who lived way back yonder 5,000 to 10,000 years before Christ, discovered the ways the world's days should be divided and divided them like that.

For the regular forms that are used in astronomical studies today and who lived way back yonder 5,000 to 10,000 years before Christ, discovered the ways the world's days should be divided and divided them like that.

would lend itself to the greatest number of simple expressions of and sixty as the proper ones for this fraction. And it did not take them long to settle upon the figures 6 and 60 as the proper ones for this.

Just examine it carefully and the reason is very plain. Sixty can be divided evenly by 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 10, 12, 15, 20, and 30. In short, it can be split ten different ways evenly. It was, therefore, decided that this was the figure by which the world should be governed in its most important things and the Babylonians put all their calculations under it. The result is that the ancient Babylonian calendar had every second of the world's time equally divided, and is as good today as it was then.

On the other hand, the modern calendar is most imperfect and wastes so much time that every four years an extra day must be added to make it up.

The discoverer of the reason for the use of sixty in the calculation of time also shows the origin of what is known as the duodecimal system, by which commercial quantities were calculated by dozens and in gross lots. These two figures are also divisible by the magic figure 6. The Babylonians knew all of this thousands of years ago—and it has taken our modern scientists years to figure it out.

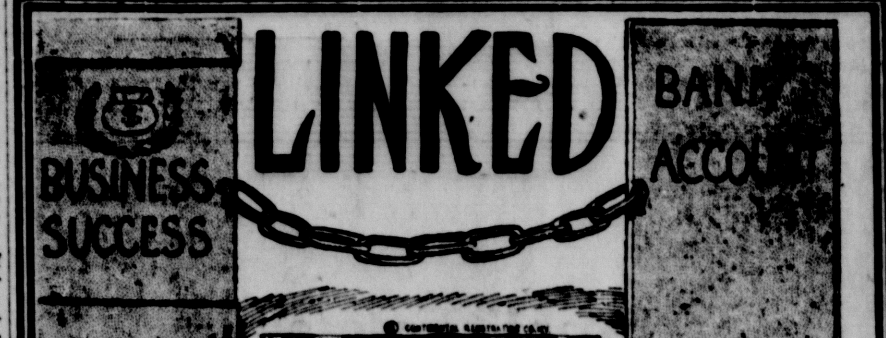

A Cynic of Optimism.
(New Orleans States.)

Jerome S. McWade, the Duluth reformer, was condemning cynicism.

"The cynic makes ugly," he said, "everything his cynical eye rests upon. I asked a cynic the other day if he could give me a good definition of an optimist."

"Sure," he replied. "Sure; an optimist is a chap who has just succeeded in doing his neighbor."

Throughout Miss Wallace's little book we have alternating glimpses of a variable Mark Twain whose humor was mixed with seriousness, and whose seriousness was not unmingled with humor. At one moment he is drawing pictures for his little friend; at another he is riding with her in a donkey cart along the island; and again he is selling the island to a hotel fireside. "In the delight of knowing Mr. Clem," one we almost forgot Mark Twain, this charming, courteous gentleman, with the crown of silver hair, with his immaculate white clothes, his kindly de-

Strange enough, all of these fellows like the Hatch brothers and old man Ketchum in Utah went into the horse-breeding business, and the steeds they bred were the finest in the basin. The finest and spirited were they. Their stock seemed superior to the famous Oregon horses for size and stamina, and we suppose they are still that way. Bradley and Mason ran a stage line from Wells to Sacramento, over the same route as the first transcontinental railway was built along their trail. Tom Short, in the Ruby Valley, was one of the sour doughs. Once when the priest came along and wanted to christen his baby Tom said: "You can christen him as you wish, but I want him christened all of years," and this settled the yearling's chance for baptism. At Elko an old six-footer plus three or four inches, and, like a blue-eyed cat, he was deaf as a post, but always knew the Indian sign when it came to the point of giving him a little of that Kaintuckey he was used to say, and the barbers did the honors by passing out the right bottle. When asked why it was that they were such a splendid lot of big, husky men, Bart Mason said: "Nothing," and went to "smoke" the pipe. Looking at the old fellows, the P. M. was glad to see place in the fourth inning after Red Davis had been put out by Tanner's big first.

Being early in the act to neither players nor fans were overly despondent, and the bases being as bare as the great Sahara, Whitey did the trick, the visitors were only out to the gods as a result. But Criss, who made his debut at the same time the Texas league came into existence, was as sparing with his hits as a miser with his gold. He kept them always grooved, and the locals had to swing or be called out on strikes.

Then lightning struck in the same place twice. Reynolds began to suspect that Criss had the Navigators about shelled down, and he was determined Whiteman shouldn't get the credit for winning a game he was in for. He belatedly to Chance as soon as the season is over, and he must justify that $5000 the peevish leader has invested in him. So Reynolds put one over, going Whitey's a little better, for it caught a place further out toward center to make his exit, also went a little higher. Whitey had secured a bouquet of grass and a flower from some place unknown, which had decorated his rear pants pocket. He met his team mate at the plate and made a presentation of the near-banquet.

This double murder did not affect the Waco fielding—it was perfect. But the Naves were never able to start anything that gave promise of a score. It was simply a case of too much Criss.

Ogle did well. He kept the six hits which were made off his delivery for the eight innings he worked well scattered. That two of them happened to fall over the fence instead of into McLaurin's and Crichlow's hands can not be counted too strongly against him. The fact that the bases were clear both times the Marathon sluggers were up, proves that Ogle had never allowed the contest to get away from him.

The game was so well played that it was not very interesting. Considering the number of men left on bases, eighteen, it was fast. Waco showed up snapper on the field than Houston, but both teams played gilt-edge ball.

McMahon at third for Waco accepted nine assists and a put out with-out an error. He also made two hard tries that many players would have let go.

Tanner, whose hitting is getting better right along, hit .549 yesterday, getting two out of four times up. Whiteman went after the high ones at first with one hand. Green, who re-buffed Ogle to let Powers bat in the eighth, let men get on, but leaped under a pop bunt and doubled McDonald at first before he could get back. Green looks like a good ball player, whether he can pitch or not.

The way the teams were fielding, the game would very probably have run into extra innings had the ball not been put off the park. Reynolds sent his skyarker in the seventh with one down.

In the eighth Newnam knocked a foul well outside the line and McNamara called it. Malley, the backstop for Houston, chided a remark that did not suit the occasion and he was informed by the umpire that he was in the way. He retired from the scene of battle.

The Buffaloes will be here for the last game of the series today. Some probably will pitch for the visitors. Ware received a telegram that his mother was very ill. He had not decided last night whether he would go home or not. He waited further word.

Dallas, May 20.—Taking a lead of two runs in the opening of the game, the afternoon punctured the losing streak and won from Beaumont 2 to 1. Beaumont put over her score on two singles, a hit batsman and Dobard's sacrifice fly. Dallas two scores came on three singles, two of them scratches, and an infield out. BAYLOR LOSES A CLOSE CONTEST

SOUTHWESTERN TAKES FIRST OF TWO GAMES BY SCORE
OF 1 TO 0.

METHODISTS SCORE IN EIGHTH

McConnell Not In Usual Good Form and Loss in Pitchers' Battle
Game Today.

Baylor's inability to connect with Headrick's slants on Carroll field yesterday afternoon caused the Baptists to drop the first game of the Southwestern series to their Methodist opponents, the score being 1 to 0.

It was a scoreless game until the first of the eighth when Lyons, the first man up, reached the initial bag on a slow throw from short by Captain McMahon, pilfered second, and scored a few minutes later on Harris' drive to left field.

Only one Baptist got as far as third base. Emory, who was hit by Headrick in the fifth inning, after two men had been retired, claimed his base and stole second and third before another man went down. Bellow was struck on the head when he started the batting for the Baptists in the fourth inning, but he failed to claim his base on it and died at first on a quick throw from short. He was followed by McMahon with a long drive to left field and had he claimed his base he might possibly have scored. McMahon went out at second, however, when he attempted to stretch his hit into a two-bagger.

McConnell was not up to his usual good form, his distribution of free passes being entirely too generous, eight men having walked during the game. He yielded up five hits to two off his opponent. Story at second and Mendenhall at right field were a trifle slow in covering their positions, enabling a few hits to be garnered when quicker fielding would have meant death for the runners. With that exception the playing of both teams was close and consistent, the one error credited to Captain McMahon in his slow throw to first, which made possible the sole run of the Methodists, being the only one chalked up on either side. The Methodists gave Headrick perfect support, and he deserved it.

On the other hand the Baylor exhibition was far better than that which the team put up against Texas in the two contests with the Longhorns here, the last previous home engagements, and the shift in the line-up and batting order that has prevailed since the beginning of the invasion of North Texas has brought a decided improvement in the work of the team.

Any feature of the game was the retiring of the Baptists with only four balls in the seventh inning. The retiring of Yardley was also prominent, while the drawing of three free passes in as many times as the bat by Pierce, Southwestern shortstop, was noticeable. McConnell appeared to be afraid to give him a chance to hit.

When the Methodists went to bat for the first round Lyons fanned, Robbins flew out to Story, Wilson singled, Collier for Baylor, drew a free pass, but was snatched in an attempt at second. Smith reached first on a fielder's choice and after Bellow had fanned, McMahon flew out to Pierce.

At the beginning of the second round Harris placed a nice single in the right field, but was called by Collier and Story when he attempted to steal second. Monning hit out to Bellow, Pierce walked and King fanned. Franklow, of Baylor, flew out to Robbins, Southwestern shortstop, and Mendenhall hit to right field and Emory fanned.

Headrick dropped a high fly to Franklow when he opened the third inning for the visitors. Lyons went in at first on an assist from Story, and Robbins struck out. McConnell first up for Baylor, dropped a fly to Monning. Collier did the same thing and Smith struck out.

In spite of two hits and two free passes in the fourth round the Methodists were unable to put a man across the home plate. Wilson fanned, Yardley took a safe drive to left field, but McConnell caught him napping at second. Harris walked and was advanced to third by a hit to center field by Monning, who later drew the assist. Pierce walked, but King fanned and retired the side before the scoring machine worked.

Bellow, Baylor, was beaten at first by a drive from the shortstop, McMahon singled to right field and was caught by Story. McMahon then drew a double, and Franklow drove a fly to Headrick.

In the fifth trial of Southwestern with the stick, Headrick drew a pass, but was caught in an attempt to steal second, Emory making the assist. Lyons died at first and Robbins flew out to Mendenhall. Story drove a fly to Monning. Mendenhall went to first when he was hit by Headrick, and McConnell died before he reached the first station.

Both sides were ineffective through the sixth and seventh innings, and a long-drawn-out contest looked probable, but at the opening of the eighth Lyons made it to first on the delayed throw of Captain McMahon from short, beat it to second when Robbins reached first on a fielder's choice, and after Wilson had gone out at first on an assist from the pitcher and Yardley had drawn a purposeful free pass, scored on a long drive to story, and by Harris, which was safely pocketed by Franklow. Monning went out at first on an assist from McMahon and the scoring of the day was over. Baylor worked hard for an opportunity to overcome the lead, but it never came. Mendenhall, Emory and McConnell all struck out in rapid succession when they came up in the latter part of the eighth, while in the Baptist's half of the ninth Collier and Bellow also went the strike-out route and Smith knocked a fly to Robbins. Monning played one of the best fielding games that has been seen in Waco this year. He played everywhere within reach of second base and always without a bobble.

The two teams play again this afternoon at 4:15, closing the season for

TO SUMMER IN ARIZONA.

Roosevelt and Sons Will Hunt in the Southwest.

New York, May 20.—Theodore Roosevelt announced today that he expected to spend his vacation this summer in Arizona. He will leave here early in July, taking with him two of his sons, and will hunt four or five weeks in the southwest, most of the time in Arizona. It is to be purely a pleasure trip.

Colonel Roosevelt expects to leave New York on Saturday for Michigan to attend the trial of his libel suit against George A. Newett, publisher of the Ishpeming Iron Ore.

Marquette, Mich., May 20.—The Roosevelt civil suit for libel against George A. Newett, publisher of the Ishpeming (Mich.) Iron Ore, is scheduled to come before Judge R. C. Flannigan in this city on May 26.

GILL IS A WITNESS

TELLS PEN PROBERS THERE IS TOO MUCH CODDLING AND NURSING.

Former Assistant Manager of Farm Says the Guards Gambled and Drank Whiskey.

Houston, May 20.—When the prison probers reconvened today many additional witnesses were heard upon the subject of crops. The trend of the testimony taken here so far has been in the direction of ascertaining the most profitable crops to be grown on the farms. A vast amount of testimony bearing upon the growth of cane, cotton, corn, truck and other products has been placed in the record. Reasons for alleged past failure have been aggressively sought by the committee. Many former officials of the system were present when today's hearing was resumed.

Judge Willius H. Gill, who served as a commissioner, 1907 to 1910, gave the result of his experiences. He also deprecated the abolition of the lease system in the way it was brought about. He said he thought such action had been too hasty and that the state had suffered. He declared it not to have been nearly as bad as pictured. He also thought there was entirely too much "coddling and nursing" of convicts in response to uninformed public sentiment.

J. B. Thomas, a former assistant manager at the Clemens farm, testified that while he was there guards were allowed to ship in all the liquor they wanted; that he had seen them intoxicated; that they would gamble, first placing trusts on watch for chance passersby. He said convicts were also allowed to gamble whenever it did not interfere with their work. He stated the books of the express company at Brazoria would also show the shipments of the liquor. Thomas was not at all backward in giving names and incidents.

In explanation of Thomas' testimony Lieutenant Governor Mayes said he had learned of these matters in conversation with Thomas some time ago and that the latter appeared at his instance to testify.

Other testimony adduced had to do with crops and routine conditions. Thomas said he held his position from August 23, 1912, until May 4, last, when he had been "fired."

MOB TRIES FOR A NEGRO

At Jail Door Woman Who Was His Victim Identifies Him.

Hiawatha, Kan., May 20.—A mob of 200 persons from Falls City, Neb., tonight made a threatening demonstration at the jail here where Wm. Belieu, a negro, charged with attacking Mrs. Anna Kellar of Falls City, is a prisoner. He was brought here for safe keeping.

After the crowd had promised that the negro would not be harmed he was brought out on the jail steps that Mrs. Kellar might see him. When she identified him as her assailant the crowd closed in, but the sheriff and his assistants held the mob at bay with revolvers until Belieu could be taken back to his cell.

Late tonight the men on the streets were still in an angry mood and an extra force of guards was on duty at the jail.

CONDITIONS ARE BAD

SAY SPEAKERS IN REFERENCE TO COAL FIELDS OF WEST VIRGINIA.

"Mother" Jones Says United States Can Give Mexico Cade and Spades on Atrocities.

Washington, May 20.—Resolutions protesting against the continuance of "outrageous conditions now prevailing in the mining industry of West Virginia" and urging the committee on education and labor to speedily report favorably the Kern resolution, were adopted at a mass meeting here tonight, held under the auspices of the central labor union. The conditions existing in West Virginia were referred to by the speakers as "indescribable." Those who spoke were Representative Buchanan of Illinois, "Mother" Jones, John B. Colpoys, editor of a labor union organ, and Frank Phelan and Wm. Fairley, both organizers of the United Mine Workers of America. Secretary Wilson of the department of labor, was present but did not speak.

Representative Buchanan declared that the miners of West Virginia had been denied the rights of citizens guaranteed to them by the constitution and the laws of that state.

Mr. Fairley declared that "no man or woman, no pen or painter could describe accurately the horrors perpetrated on the miners of West Virginia."

"Mother" Jones said that the miners in West Virginia revolted against a "condition unknown in any other state of the union." She referred to conditions that prevailed in Mexico under former President Diaz and of bloody revolutions and declared "We can give them cards and spades in West Virginia." She said that she had been charged by Senator Goff with being a notorious character. "I thank him," she added, "I am. I intend to put such oppressors as Senator Goff out of business before I get through with him."

HARRIS TO SUCCEED DURAND

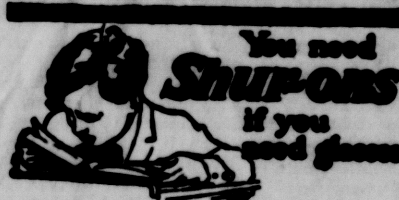

Agreement for a Vote On the Nomination Is Reached—Other Appointments.

Washington, May 20.—Senators who were looking forward to a discussion of census taking from the days of Babylon to the present were disappointed tonight, when the promised fight over the confirmation of W. J. Harris of Georgia as director of the census succeeding E. Dana Durand, was submitted to arbitration and an agreement was made to vote on it June 21.

No charges have ever been filed against Harris and since a voting arrangement has been made he probably will be approved, as the democrats have plenty of votes to confirm the nomination.

In the two-hour executive session tonight the senate confirmed the nominations of several score postmasters and other officials, including George W. Guthrie as ambassador to Japan; John F. Mitchell as collector of the port of New York; G. M. Saltzgar as commissioner of pensions, and Albert Lee Thurman as solicitor for the department of commerce.

Nominations of William H. Berry as collector of customs at Philadelphia and that of Franklin P. Colcock as collector at Beaufort, S. C., to which republican objection has been raised, were passed over.

Beri Beri Epidemic Situation Improved States Dr. Preston

Austin, May 20.—Dr. John Preston, superintendent of the state insane asylum, today announced that the beri beri plague at the asylum was being controlled and that it was believed that within a short time the epidemic would be effectually curbed.

The death rate so far has been about one per cent. The worst plague recorded at the asylum was in 1907, when 200 cases were reported with a fatality of ten per cent. But a few of the patients at this time are in a serious condition. The heavy rainfall of the day may hinder the progress of the cure.

Lovelace Talks of Beri Beri Epidemic

"Just what conditions, aside from over-crowding have led to the breaking out of beri beri in the State Insane Asylum at Austin is problematical," declared Dr. Carl Lovelace of 420 Speight street, who visited the capital city Saturday at the request of Dr. John Preston, superintendent of the asylum.

"Several theories regarding the transmission and cause of this tropical disease are held by the medical profession. It is claimed by some that the beri beri may be contracted through a continued diet of white rice, and others advance other suppositions. The disease," he continued, "is prevalent in Japan, Malay Peninsula, China, Philippines, Brazil and, in fact, all of the tropical countries. Simply, it is an inflammation that produces degeneration of the nerves, resulting in paralysis. Death comes when the heart nerves are affected."

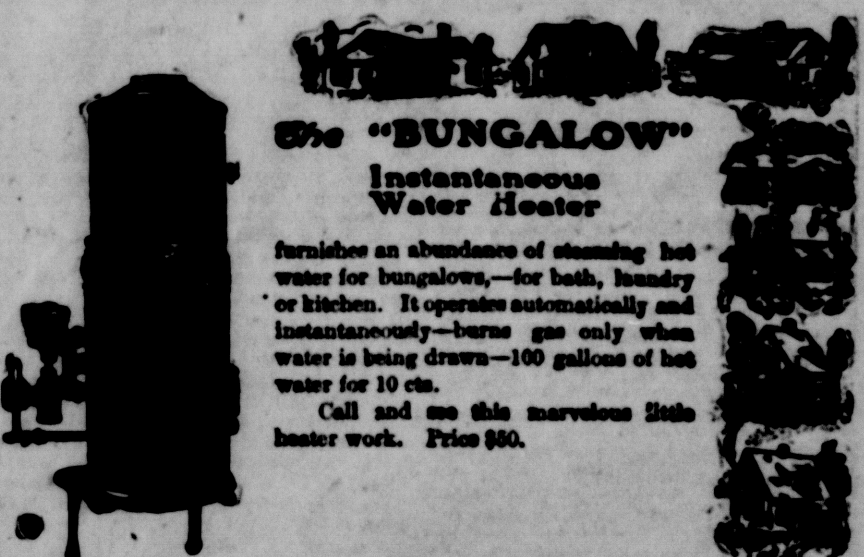

"The disease made its entrance into the asylum several weeks ago. Means to prevent its spread are now being taken. Over-crowding has been one of the causes of its appearance. During the war between Russia and Japan, the doctor went on, 'it will be remembered that Japan was forced to take over 55,000 of her soldiers home, all ill with beri beri. Just how serious the condition is at the asylum it cannot be accurately stated. I have great confidence, however, in the ability of the state officials, both medical and administrative.'"

Dr. Lovelace returned to Waco some time ago from Brazil, where he was for a long time chief surgeon and physician for the largest railway in that republic. He is recognized as not only conversant with tropical disorders, but is an admitted authority.

GUNBOAT SMITH IS WINNER MANDOT IS KNOCKED OUT

Overcomes the Weight and Reach of Jess Willard in Twenty Rounds.

San Francisco, May 20.—Fifty pounds advantage in weight, six inches in height and a reach like the arm of a derrick could not win tonight for Jess Willard from Gunboat Smith, who earned a referee's decision in the last round of a 20-round bout. The heavier punch of the more experienced and aggressive veteran counted for more in the result than the bulk and strength of his opponent.

The gunner forced the fighting throughout the twentieth and when Referee Selig designated him as the winner at the end of the bout the crowd cheered in approval.

Losses to Bud Anderson in Twentieth Round Tuesday Night. Staggers Blindly.

Los Angeles, May 20.—Joe Mandot of New Orleans was knocked out in the twelfth round of his scheduled 20-round fight here tonight with Bud Anderson of Vancouver, Washington. Mandot was not knocked down in the final round, but he was out on his feet. He was clearly incoherent. Referee Eylon, seeing the condition of the Southerner, stopped the fight, with Mandot staggering blindly about the ring, and held up Anderson's hand in token of victory.

IN COTTON MARKET

LESS ACTIVE AND AFTER SLIGHT ADVANCE EASED OFF, WITH THE CLOSE STEADY.

Weather Map Is a Strong Factor at This Time—Rumors of Mill Closing Untrue.

New York, May 20.—The cotton market was less active today and after a slight early advance eased off, with the close very steady at an advance of 1 point on many positions, but generally 2 to 5 points lower.

The opening was steady at an advance of 1 to 3 points on a renewal of yesterday's covering movement and continued buying by trade houses with foreign connections. Cables were no better than due, while the early weather news showed very favorable weather conditions in the south, with further showers forecast for the eastern belt, but the buying was not as active as it could be on Monday. Wall street uptown interests seemed to be taking some cotton, but houses with southern connections were sellers and prices soon sagged off 3 points from the best.

Trading became very quiet late in the morning, but offerings increased somewhat after the publication of the weekly report, which appeared to encourage a more optimistic view of the probable June condition report, and the active months sold off to a net loss of from 2 to 6 points during the afternoon. Closing prices were 2 or 3 points up from the lowest on most positions as a result of covering by early sellers on a continued scattering trade demand.

Rumors that certain of the prominent New England mills would close next week referred only to the decision of the mills to close on Memorial day and the previous buying last Saturday may have prompted some selling in connection with the favorable weather and crop news. Private wires stated that cotton in putting on a square in southern Alabama and predicted blooms by the first of next month.

There was nothing in the news to indicate any material change in the ruling of the southern spot markets but several reports were received from the eastern belt claiming generous interior stocks as compared with last year.

July was relatively steady during the day, as most of the fresh selling seems to have gone into the last positions owing to the reduction in the local stock and the small shipments in this direction from the south.

New Orleans, May 20.—Bullish sentiment was on the increase in the cotton market today, but the short side was unable to bring about much of a decline. Several times during the day sports of selling came from ring traders, who based their trading on scattered rains over the cotton regions and the rise in temperatures, but the offerings were fairly well taken. Buying was quiet and bullish gossip was that the market was overvalued and would react of its own accord without aggressive support from the long side.

March was made of reports that the crop is late over a large part of the belt and the weekly weather reports were called bullish chiefly because of their remarks regarding droughty conditions in the belt. Bears were encouraged, however, by the rains since the report was made up the forecast of more showers to come and the tendency of the weather to warm up. The opening was steady, unchanged to 5 points up compared with yesterday's close. Cables were about as due and the weather map was favorable.

Around the call the market stood 2 to 6 points up net. This was the high point of the day. Offerings from the short side increased, especially after the detailed weather reports were posted, showing the average maximum temperature of 85 for the belt yesterday.

Around noon prices were 5 to 7 points under yesterday's final figures. This was the low of the day. In the afternoon sellers tried to scalp their profits and the market closed firm at a net decline of 1 to 4 points.

IN THE GRAIN MARKET

ABUNDANCE OF MOISTURE IN NORTHEAST TAKES SNAP OUT OF BUYING.

Best Support Early in the Day—Decrease in World's Visible Helps the Bull Side.

Chicago, May 20.—Abundance of moisture in the Dakotas and Minnesota took the snap out of buying today in the wheat pit. Although steady at the close the market was 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 under last night. Later trading left corn varying from 1/4 off to 1-1/2 advance, oats down 1/4 to 1/2 and provisions strung out from 1/4 to a gain of a shade.

Selling of wheat was of an influential kind and developed considerable volume on all the wheels. The best support was early in the day and had chiefly as a basis unfavorable crop advices from Europe, especially France. A material decrease in the world's visible supply furnished some additional help to the bull side. Statements that in the Canadian northwest wheat was nearly three weeks backward and suffering from dryness and cold failed to attract much notice, the conditions on this side of the boundary proving more impressive.

Notwithstanding heavy offerings from the bears corn was upheld by Iowa reports of delayed planting and probable slowness of shipments. Actual receipts here were scanty.

Oats weakened in view of the general rains.

In provisions longs realized on a moderate advance. The result was an easy feeling at the close.

IN THE STOCK MARKET

LOW BIDS ON NEW YORK CITY BOND ISSUE IS A SET BACK.

Rumors of Agreement on the Dissolution Plan of the Pacific Causes Better Tone.

New York, May 20.—After slowly gathering strength during the greater part of today's market, stocks received a setback late in the session when bids were opened for New York City's 4 1/2 per cent bonds. The bids fell considerably below the usual estimates. The view commonly held as to the probable issues of the bonds was indicated by the trading in the bonds "when issued," which has been in progress on the curb for some time. Bonds sold as high as 100 1/2, and today there were sales at 100 1/2 before the bids were opened. When it became known that bids from large institutions were being received at par or above, bonds sold off and the outstanding city issues also weakened.

The city's bond offering had been looked forward to with unusual interest early in the day. Prices of stocks moved irregularly at the outset, but the undertone was firm. The upward movement received impetus from rumors that the Harriman dissolution plan had been decided upon to the "dissatisfaction" of all parties. On the other hand, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific rose strongly and the rest of the market moved with them. Although the report was subsequently denied the market retained its advance until it received its setback late in the day.

If we will collect your old slow accounts up $5 per cent down? If we will bring you all the cash that is now going from your territory into the larger towns and to the mail order houses? Methods of Success.

(New York Post.)

Every boss has his own way of doing things. Our own Murphy had a word of simple greeting with the president in the presence of whoever happened to be in the room. Roger Sullivan of Illinois prefers a half hour of private conference in the white house. But Thomas Taggart of Indiana does not go to Washington at all. He stays at home and plans to extend his grip upon the democratic organization. In his first step in that direction he has been repulsed. His candidate for postmaster of Indianapolis, urged upon Wilson by Representative Korbly, has been rejected in favor of a "forward-looking" democrat who possesses abilities more suited to the position than mere political instinct. And the next plume upon which Mr. Taggart's eye is fixed, the majority of Indianapolis is not so close as it was a few days ago. Instead of the nomination going by default to a machine choice, the candidacy of a well known citizen, with positive achievements to his credit in civic improvements, has been announced in opposition to the Taggart nomination. It remains to be seen how far the Taggart policy of support for Woodrow Wilson for the presidency, and of reactionaries for the offices in which he is particularly concerned, can be successful.

IN THE LOCAL COURTSUNUSUAL SCHEDULING OF LUNACY CASE FOR TRIAL IN DISTRICT COURT.

Attorneys and Judge Quibble Over New Question—Allege Negro Ray Insane.

Complaint charging lunacy in the case of G. W. Ray, negro, convicted of murder, will be filed in the Fifty-fourth district court. This was practically decided upon, attorneys representing the man yesterday, although the complaint had not been made. The question of where jurisdiction would rest was at issue. Judge Richard I. Munroe, trial judge in the Fifty-fourth district court, where Ray was convicted, was of the opinion that the lunacy charge should be filed in the county court. Attorneys for the defense held a different view, believing the district court should have jurisdiction.

The case is a rather peculiar one and the question is new in this court. Ray was first convicted of murder. Now he is alleged to be insane. Under the statutes, all lunacy cases go to the county court. In instances such as this, however, attorneys hold that the complaint should be made in the court where conviction was had. In all probability complaint will be made today.

Arson Charge Dismissed. Because of lack of evidence, the county attorney's department dismissed the charge of arson filed some time ago against J. M. Williams. The man is alleged to have burned a house on Twelfth street. When the case was called for trial yesterday in Justice Harvey M. Richey's court, the county attorney's department recommended it be dismissed.

Peddlers in Tella. Two peddlers, said to be operating without a license, were arrested yesterday by the constabulary department. Charges of selling without a license were preferred against them.

"We want to get all persons who are traveling over the city peddling dry goods, and other things, without license," said Constable Stiegel.

The men will be given a hearing to day.

Giving Away Elk. (Louisville Courier-Journal.)

The federal government is giving away elk from Jackson's Hole and Yellowstone Park, and not only making it possible for the hunter to be revived in various states in which no elk have been seen for generations, but also providing the advocates of the infant industry of conservation with a good example.

It is estimated that there are between 25,000 and 100,000 elk in the government reservations. Thousands of tons of hay have been fed to them to keep them from starving when the deep snows have covered the winter ranges. Under protection the elk thrived so that it became necessary to distribute them in order to reduce the density of population upon the ranges. Now they are being furnished free to states, in which an effort is being made at protecting game. As nearly all of the states have territory in which there is room and the right kind of range for elk, and as conservation is growing in popularity, there is no reason why the animals should not become again distributed as widely as they were when this country was discovered.

They may then be hunted under suitable restrictions to prevent extermination, and the supply will be permanent.

The other side of the picture is the virtual extinction of the buffalo. How many buffalo there were in this country before their slaughter "apart" by game butchers armed with repeating rifles was inaugurated, will never be known.

Not in It. (Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

"George, dear, what's all this trouble between the Californians and the Japanese?"

"Why, the Californians do not want the Japanese in that state to become citizens and hold property."

"But George, I noticed that all the students in the graduating class at a California theological school this year are Japanese. Why should the Californians permit this?"

"Oh, that's all right. Theological students are never expected to hold any property."

KEEP WALKS CLEAN

THE MAYOR OPPOSES GASOLINE STUMBLING BLOCKS ON PAVEMENTS OF WACO.

Houston Concern Writes There is No Regulation in That City. Permit Granted.

The perplexing question of where to place gasoline tanks was again brought before the city commission yesterday morning. Commissioner Caulfield presented a letter which had been sent to him by a local automobile dealer. It was from a firm in Houston, in answer to a letter the Waco dealer had written asking as to regulation of gasoline tanks in that city. The letter stated there was no regulation regarding the location of the tanks in Houston, but that experience had taught that it was better to have the tanks on the sidewalk than in buildings, as it was safer from a fire hazard. Also the letter recommended the use of cabinet filling pumps on the tanks, with a vent pipe eight feet high. By this method the gasoline is beneath the walk and all that is exposed is the vent pipe and cabinet pump.

Mayor Mackey again voiced his objection to any part of the apparatus on the walk. "The trouble comes from concealing the tanks. We have had sufficient trouble keeping the sidewalks clear and have made many people mad trying to keep the tanks from looking like a Christmas tree. If you let one thing go on the walks another will follow." "The biggest mistake this city ever made," continued the mayor, "was in not requiring the telephone, electric light and other wires to go underground before the alleys were paved." Commissioner Dollins said that under the ordinance the city would not prevent the placing of gasoline tanks near the buildings.

At this point an application to install a gasoline pump north side of the square was presented. Commissioner Caulfield said: "I hate to go against the mayor, but I vote yes on the petition."

Blocks Austin Street As Cars Now Stop

The city commission may again require the Southern Traction company to change its schedule of stopping cars at the intersection of Fifth and Austin streets.

H. B. Ross, superintendent of the company, appeared before the commission yesterday in regard to the matter. Complaint had been made that under the present plan of stopping cars on Austin street, instead of North Fifth, Austin was blocked at Fifth about half the time during the day and evening. Mr. Ross said the commission had ordered that the company bring its cars around on Austin street from Fifth to stop, that his company followed instructions and educated the people to go to Austin to get on the cars. Now, he says, complaint is made that this blocks Austin.

The matter of the North Fifth street car stopping half way of the block between Fifth and Fourth, also was brought up. No action was taken on either complaint.

GRADING ON ELM IS CONTROVERSY

TRACTION COMPANY ASKS CITY TO SHARE EXPENSE OF THE STREET.

MAIN THOROUGHFARE, EAST SIDE

Mayor and Commissioners Are Not Disposed to Do So—Contract Is Otherwise.

Difference of opinion regarding the extent to which the Southern Traction company shall replace the surface of Elm street, after their track on that street is laid, resulted yesterday in a lengthy discussion of the contract under which the franchise for trackage on Elm street was granted by the city commission.

A letter from the Traction company was read, in which that company stated that it does not think that under the contract that company is required to place the entire street on grade and resurface the street where this is necessary by reason of the laying of tracks.

The commissioners interpreted the contract as requiring that the Traction company use the city grade in placing their tracks and take care of all construction of the street made necessary by reason of placing the line on that street. Mayor Mackey said in this connection:

"Those people, to get down Elm street, agreed to anything we proposed. There was violent opposition to granting the franchise down Elm, and the understanding was that where track was below the present surface of the street they were to put the street on grade."

Commissioner Foster said:

"Former Commissioner Gorman understood they were to take care of all drainage and all construction on the street."

Mayor Mackey—We threshed it out at several special meetings, and it would be a shame and disgrace if they were allowed the franchise and the city had to pay for grading the street. Commissioner Foster—We had to go to the expense of opening Chestnut street as a result of the car line going down Elm.

CONTRACTORS ASK FOR PAY

Sewer Builder Wants His Money Twice a Month, and Request Is Referred.

Payment of estimates to two contractors who have done street improvement work, was refused by the city commission yesterday morning, that body taking the stand that to make any other than that provided for in the contracts of the parties might invalidate the surety bonds.

The question was brought up when N. B. Gregory asked for a mid-month estimate on the work he has done on the Mary street sewer. Commissioner Foster reported that Mr. Gregory desired to receive payment twice a month on estimates of work completed. Instead of on the first of each month, as called for in his contract. It was stated that the bond of the contractor would protect the city.

Mayor Mackey said he didn't bank on bonds as much as some others, a they were hard to collect.

City Attorney Maxwell said bonding companies always fight.

Commissioner Dollins raised the principal question, however, when he said: "To make any change in the contract, that is by paying an estimate when not provided for in the contract, might invalidate the contract."

City Attorney Maxwell said in case suit might have to be brought on the bond, and such payment had been made the bonding company surely would raise that technically. Mayor Mackey said it was to the interest of the bonding company that the city pay the contractor as little money as possible until the work was accepted.

Commissioner Littlefield moved the matter be referred to City Attorney Maxwell. Commissioner Caulfield said he would be in favor of granting the estimate if it could be done without affecting the contract. Mayor Mackey said the railroad company was also interested in the Mary street work, and such procedure without investigation would probably be objected to by the company.

The matter was referred to the city attorney for a legal opinion and Commissioner Foster of streets said he would recommend payment of estimate for fifty per cent of completed work, should the attorney hold it could be done under the contract.

Practically the same question was presented by Roach-Mannion Co., who asked for payment of $1,000 as an estimate for work done on South Sixth street. This company had not completed work of paving the intersection at Jackson and Mary streets, so their request was held up, pending the decision of the attorney in the Gregory matter.

LIGHTS FOR PARKS

MAYOR INSISTS THERE SHOULD BE MORE SERVICE AT COTTON PALACE.

Commissioner Agrees—Dollins Says Good People Will Not Go to Park That Is Dark.

Cotton Palace Park is to be more brilliantly illuminated, and the city is to furnish the lights. The matter of needed lights at the park was brought up by the mayor yesterday morning at the commission meeting.

He said: "Cotton Palace park is growing in importance, and there is increased demand for more lights in the park. President Hoffmann has stated that one large arc light will greatly aid, but I believe it would be better to provide a number of smaller Tungsten lights."

He proposed to provide the lights from that number contracted for by the city with the lighting company. This proposal was agreeable to the commission, and the mayor and Commissioner Caulfield were named to look after the matter, and were given authority to use as many smaller lights as would equal the candle power of two arc lights.

The city has fifteen arc lights under contract with the lighting company, which have not been located. Commissioner Dollins stated that former Commissioner John Wright had offered his services in assisting to locate the lights where needed most, and that this would probably be done soon.

In connection with lighting parks, Commissioner Littlefield reported that it had been stated to him that lights are needed at Carroll park, near Baylor, where many people congregate, and lights will improve the conditions, and he recommended that the mayor or Mr. Caulfield also investigate this condition. This authority was conferred upon them.

Commissioner Dollins, who has jurisdiction of the lights, stated that the good people would not visit the parks unless they were properly lighted. He said: "This is just the time of year we are beginning to need the parks, the people want to visit them in the evening to enjoy the cool air. They are fine for the working man and his family, but if we do not properly light them, the best people will not visit them, leaving the parks to the rougher class."

The commission agreed with him, and it is probable that an effort will be made to have other parks better lighted.

TO SEND THE MAYOR

TO AD CLUB AT BALTIMORE IF SUCH EXPENDITURE IS LEGAL.

While On the Trip He Can Investigate Sewage Disposal Plants for the City.

In all probability Mayor James H. Mackey will represent the city of Waco at the convention of the National Ad club to be held in Baltimore.

W. J. Mitchell, president of the Waco advertising club, H. Hagedorn, W. H. Hoffmann, T. W. Robertson and George Stubbfield, as a committee from the Ad club, called upon the city commission yesterday morning and asked that the city send Mayor Mackey to Baltimore with the many delegates the Ad club is to send to Baltimore.

Mr. Mitchell addressed the commission and outlined the purposes of the Waco delegation in attending. Immediately afterwards Commissioner Foster, of streets, suggested that Mr. Mackey be delegated to represent the city. Mr. Foster said information is needed about the proposed sewage disposal plant which Waco intends to install, and that he would be glad if the mayor would make the trip, as he could combine the trip with a visit to the plant with an inspection of sewage disposal plants in various cities.

The question of whether the city could legally provide money for such a trip was raised, Commissioner Caulfield of the finance department, stating that he would be very valuable to the city or to make the trip if it can be legally done.

Mayor Mackey said: "It will be something of a departure from the rule that has been adhered to by this body for the past four years, which has been that no appropriation of money for any trip to any place by the members thereof."

Commissioner Dollins said the mayor or in times past had often been sent to investigate propositions of benefit to the city, and that the trip of inspection, also of representation at Baltimore, would be very valuable to the city. Mayor Mackey asked that the matter be taken under advisement and referred to the city attorney for a legal opinion, stating the present commission had not appropriated money for those purposes. This was done by instructions for a report at the next meeting.

President Mitchell said he desired to know as soon as possible whether the mayor could attend, as he wanted to wire for reservations and badges.

The entire commission favored the proposal, and the only question on which decision hinges is that of the legality of appropriating money for the trip.

The city is considering and will eventually be compelled to install a sewage disposal plant. Information as to the most successful kind of plant is needed, and the commission believes the mayor could acquire knowledge that would be valuable to the city in this matter, as well as representing the city at the Ad convention.

Finish Crap Game Then March to Jail

"Go on with your game, and when you get through come and let's go to jail," said Constable Leslie Stegall to four negroes, two women and two men, whom he arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of "shooting craps."

The arrest was made on Columbus street. Constable Stegall and Deputy Constable Hobbs walked to the door of the house where the game was in progress before they were seen by Stegall at his word, the game was played out. Then each furnished bond to appear Thursday afternoon in justice court.

PEOPLE PROTEST A DOUBLE TRACK

PETITION PUBLISHED YESTERDAY IN MORNING NEWS GOES TO THE COMMISSION.

MR. SANFORD ASKS DELAY

Where Car Burns Will Be Located Not Known—Bande Has Given Option on His Lots.

The application of the Southern Traction company for permission to double track on North Fourth street from Washington to a point 200 feet north of Jefferson street, presented at the Friday meeting of the city commission and docketed to come up for its second reading at yesterday's session of that body, was allowed to lie over. It will be taken up at the next meeting. This action was taken on request of Allan D. Sanford, attorney for the company.

Formal protest of property owners in the form of a petition signed by a majority of those living or owning property along the proposed route, to the granting of the franchise, was filed by S. H. Clayton, soon after the commission met. This petition was published yesterday in the Morning News.

The petition was read and Mayor Mackey said:

"I think we should ask the Traction company for more information in the matter."

Commissioner Caulfield said: "They should file a blue print of what they desire, as is required in all cases where trackage is asked by either railroad or the Traction company."

Commissioner Dollins said: "At first glance their request looks all right, but it would not do to put their double tracks on that street at all. I am willing to do anything that is right to further the interests of any people or company who spend their money in Waco, but I don't believe in doing anything to block that street."

At this juncture Allan D. Sanford came into the commission chamber, and Mayor Mackey said: "We have just finished reading a protest against your North Fourth street franchise. May I read it?" asked Mr. Sanford.

"Haven't you seen it in the morning paper?" asked Commissioner Caulfield.

"Yes, but I only read the headlines," answered Mr. Sanford.

He then took the protest and after reading it said: "Relative to North Fourth street, the Traction company does not want to do anything detrimental to the citizens of Waco. Personally at this time I do not care to express my opinion regarding this petition. It may be some of their property interests will be hurt, but I don't think so. I would suggest to the board that the matter be allowed to lay over until the next meeting. At that time we will put the matter up again or change it. I understand it would not be a variance of rules of this body to pass the franchise under suspended rules after it is investigated and thoroughly discussed."

The mayor said that was the procedure in almost all franchises applied for.

Buildings Would Be Slightly. Mr. Sanford closed the matter by saying: "The idea in my mind is that the proposed improvements on North Fourth street would be largely in the nature of property owners on Fifth street, as the buildings we propose to construct will be of such a character to improve everything in their vicinity. I have not talked to any of the property owners about the matter."

At this juncture Mr. Sanford requested the matter be allowed to go over. It had been expected that the Traction company would present blue prints of what they desired on North Fourth street, together with plans for turnouts to any property. This is the usual procedure and had the application been considered as far as its third reading, such a plan would have been required. Mr. Sanford's failure to press the matter, however, left the company free to use its own pleasure with regard to blue print plans.

When it is taken up again, if passed under suspended rules, as Mr. Sanford suggested might be the case, if passed at all, blue print plans will be required.

May Be John Bande Lots. Speculation as to where the barns of the company will be located continues, especially among those residents of Fourth street directly interested. Rumor has it that the company might consider that property located at Fifth and Jefferson streets, owned by John Bande. Mr. Bande has granted an option on the property to D. E. Hirschfeld, real estate agent. The option runs until October 1. This property is the north side of Jefferson street and the east side of Fifth street. It is now occupied by Mr. Bande as a residence. The land is about 133 feet deep on Jefferson and 250 feet on Fifth street. It extends to the alley, between Fourth and Fifth streets.

Just at the rear of this property is

Property Owner to Fill in to the Curb Is City's Ruling

Mart Hurlock, contractor, addressed a letter to the commission, in which he stated that a property owner on Webster who owned 60-foot frontage, had refused to fill in his sidewalk, which is necessary before the curb is set. The property owner took the stand that all he was required to fill in was that part specified as the depth of the curb. The place in question is very deep, just where the curb will be set, and the property owner objects to paying for filling it in. The commission took the stand that the owner must pay for this work.

the home of R. P. Sturgis, facing on Fourth street, and two lots owned by H. Fleischhauer. Mr. Sturgis' property is 79 1/2 feet facing on Fourth and running to the alley between Fourth and Fifth, and Mr. Fleischhauer's two lots are about 50 feet each, lying the same as Mr. Sturgis'.

Should the Bande property be the choice of the company for its barn, the only means of entrance would be through Jefferson street, unless they purchased property either from Mr. Sturgis or Mr. Fleischhauer.

Jefferson is a very narrow street and the objection is raised that should the company consider entering the Bande property through Jefferson it would block both Fourth and Jefferson.

WOMEN THANK COMMISSION HE HITS NEWSPAPERS

Edgfield People Are Grateful for the Playground Equipment to Be Placed in Park.

The city commission's decision at a previous meeting to expend $300 to secure playground apparatus for Edgfield park was repaid yesterday morning when Mrs. A. B. Cooper and Mrs. W. P. Crider presented the commission with a handsome bouquet of flowers and the thanks of the residents adjoining Edgfield.

"You do not know how much we appreciate the provision which will give our park apparatus where the children can enjoy themselves," said the ladies, "and if any of you ever want to run for president of the United States, the men of Edgfield shall vote for you."

The flowers and thanks came as a surprise to the commissioners, as they are hardly accustomed to such. However, the handsome bouquet was placed directly in the center of the table, where all could view it during the remainder of the meeting.

The appropriation was made at the last meeting, on recommendation of the mayor, who stated that the residents adjoining Edgfield did not have access to Cameron park or Cotton Palace park, and some improvements in the nature of a playground was needed. The appropriation was made by the unanimous vote of the commission.
